Dear Doctor Henney,

I am writing this letter to urge the FDA to strengthen its proposal on limiting new uses of antibiotics in agriculture. The current FDA proposal is too weak to adequately protect human health. Please do not listen to the pharmaceutical industry and special agricultural interests. Rather, respect the health concerns and long term sustainability of the United States and global population. The current overuse of antibiotics both in human medicine and in animal feeds must be quickly curtailed. I urge you to listen to the recommendations of the World Health Organization the Centers for Disease Control. Thank you for your time, effort, and consideration.

Sincerely,

Greg Raschke
